Founder, Chief Executive Officer

ARC Business Solutions

Amy Reese is the Founder and CEO of ARC Business Solutions, a Certified Woman-Owned and operated consulting firm that helps small businesses grow by accessing Federal and Corporate contracting opportunities. ARC helps businesses acquire relevant Certifications that will enable them to access contracts set-aside specifically for them. They also provide the foundational resources and instruction needed as clients begin to embark on starting a business.

After spending over 20 years as a Corporate Development Executive in which Amy collaborated with C-Suite and VP level leaders of Fortune 500 organizations and Government agencies, she now leverages her experience in relationship development, collaboration and accountability strategies to benefit small and mid-sized businesses who are seeking opportunities to grow their bottom line. The strategic techniques Amy uses have been instrumental in her success as demonstrated by the attainment of revenue growth for her clients in the millions.

Since less than 1% of small businesses utilize the strategies and resources that would enable them to grow in the Federal and Corporate marketplace, Amy's mission is to dramatically increase that percentage by empowering the under-served business owner – thereby... "Shattering the 1%"!
